GERMANY ANNOUNCES HER SUPPORT OF ALLIES

Signing of Peace Protocol Put Off—Greece and Turkey
Unable to Agree

LONDON, Dec. 3.—British diplomats admit increasing apprehension as to the possible embroilment of Europe in the settlement of territorial division when the Balkan war ends. Sharp on German Chancellor Von Bethmann-Hollweg's jingo speech in the Reichstag, and Austria's threat to engineer a demonstration against Serbia if consular reports indicate that the Pristina incident justifies, verification comes of the report that Russia has 500,000 men ready in Poland. It is strongly suspected that the Triple Alliance plans Roumania Semlin, Hungary, opposite Belgrade, in the event that a general war seems unavoidable; then if Russia goes to her ally's aid, Austria and Germany may take a hand without shouldering any of the blame of precipitating hostilities.

Adding to the serious aspect of the situation is the popular anti-Servian spirit on Austrian streets, which appears to be increasing. Budapest dispatches say that the Dirlan, a newspaper, openly demands that the King of Serbia be compelled to appear in full regalia before the Austrian legation at Belgrade and publicly express his regrets over the Pristina incident and make a promise to punish the perpetrators. The Cologne Gazette, heretofore scouting the possibility of war, says today:

"If Austria strikes last before Servian stubbornness, her prestige will be so weakened that her value as a German ally will be greatly lessened. It requires only one word from Russia to bring Serbia to terms. The world has been awaiting that word in vain."

AUSTRIAN ARMY TO MOVE INTO SERVIA ON CONSULAR REPORT
PARIS, Dec. 3.—Vienna dispatches published here assert that when Austrian Consul Edl reports to Vienna on the case of Consul Prochaska, who was reported to have been abused at Pristina by the Servians, he will allege grave insults to Austria by the Servians. Immediately after the Edl report is received, the dispatches say, one of the Austrian divisions now mobilized at Semlin will be ordered into Serbia for a "warning demonstration."

Greece's delay in signing the protocol will result in the other allies signing and leaving Greece to combat with Turkey alone, according to an unofficial dispatch. The dispatch says the other allies have already notified Greece of this.

It is officially announced that King Ferdinand has gone to Baghetche to represent Bulgaria at the peace negotiations. He will personally attempt to remove Greek objection to the proposed terms.

MASSSED BEFORE BELGRADE
VIENNA, Dec. 3.—The belief that Austria is actually preparing for war was strengthened today by the publication of reports that 100,000 Austrian troops, armed and provisioned on a war basis, have been massed at Emila, Hungary, opposite Belgrade. This movement indicates that Austria intends in event of war to strike an immediate blow at the Servian capital hoping to end the war at the outset.

Threw Himself And Roy Under Train—Boy Dead

SEATTLE, Dec. 3.—Because his wife refused to return to him, C. A. Johnson, aged thirty-five, a laborer, sought death beneath a speeding passenger train with his six-year-old son Douglas in his arms. The boy was decapitated. Johnson was cut on the head and sustained broken ribs, but will live. In the hospital he said:

"I did not want it to turn out that way. I wanted to go with the boy."

FOUR SUITS TO HAS RECOVERED GET RIGHT MORE STOLEN OF WAY JEWELRY

Orange Committee Informs P. E. That Condemnation Suits
Will be Necessary

FRANCHISE SALE SET FOR TOMORROW

Is Proposed to Switch Orange
Freight on to S. P. Tracks
at Santa Clara

The right-of-way committee of Orange has completed its work, and has turned over to the Pacific Electric its report of the situation in regard to completing the right-of-way for the extension of the electric line from Santa Ana to Orange. The committee has secured rights-of-way through all of the properties to be crossed except from four property owners, Dr. J. R. Medlock, W. T. Brown, Timothy Kilty and C. Oehlke. Against these men, the P. E. will bring condemnation suits.

The Orange committee has applied to the city trustees of Orange for a fifty-year franchise on Lemon street, the second street west of Glassell. The electric line will run into Orange on Lemon street. The Orange trustees have hesitated in granting the franchise for a period as long as that asked.

A franchise for running the tracks on North Main street from the north city limits to a point 300 feet north, where the tracks will curve onto the medlock walnut orchard, has been applied for and will be put up for sale by the Board of Supervisors tomorrow. The franchise asks for the right to lay either a double or a single track. Owing to the fact that this 300 feet lies on the proposed state highway, County Surveyor McBridge is going to recommend to the supervisors that the P. E. in laying its tracks lay whichever kind it expects to use permanently, single or double.

Another step in the settlement of matters pertaining to the ultimate building of the line between Santa Ana and Orange has been taken up with the Santa Ana city trustees. The P. E. wants a franchise for a curve track off of North Main near Santa Clara so that freight can be switched from the Orange P. E. line onto the Southern Pacific tracks. A conference between the P. E. officials and the right-of-way committee and the Santa Ana trustees is to be held soon. The Santa Ana officials have heard objections to hauling freight on North Main street. Those objections may be overcome by the proposed switching to the S. P. at Santa Clara avenue.

SOLDIERS HOME HEAD MADE ERROR

SAWTELLE, Dec. 3.—The Sawtelle Soldiers' Home probe was resumed this morning, the committee visiting the barracks and the farm.

Later Governor T. J. Cochrane of the Home was called to the stand. He made a general statement of the disciplinary administration as compared with other national soldiers' homes. He showed printed reports purporting to show that the number of inmates punished were less than in other homes, although the Pacific Home is second in size.

During Cochrane's testimony he quoted from the report of Federal Inspector Brewster in which statements were made that the general condition was satisfactory. Senator Jones secured the report and perused it, then quietly remarked that the quotations Cochrane was putting into the record of the probe were from General Brewster's report on the Leavenworth, Kansas Home, and had no reference to Sawtelle. Cochrane explained that he had made a mistake.

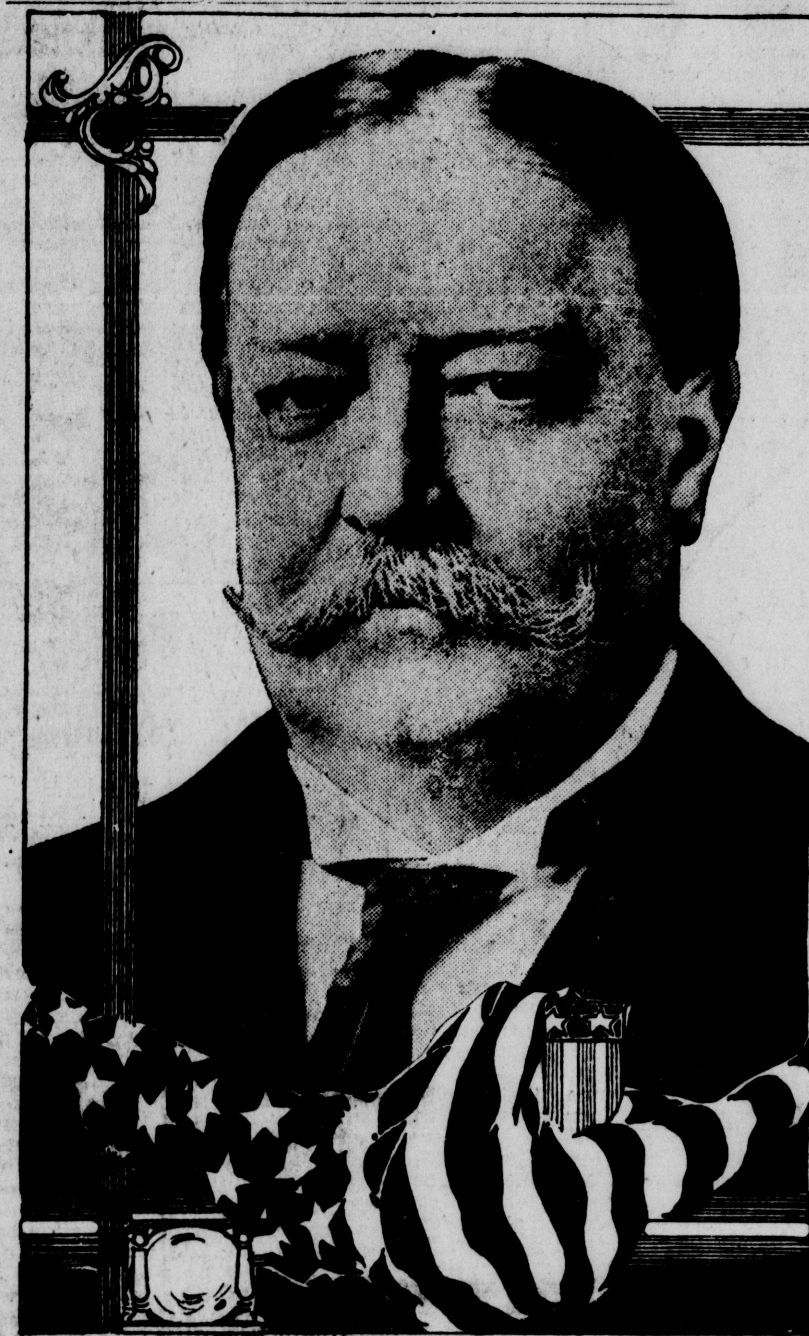

The senators asked many questions as to the nature of trials for offenses given veterans, making particular point of the alleged absence of inquiry into the genuine merits of the offenses.

M. J. Bonham, a veteran employed by ex-Adjutant Startman to investigate an alleged leak in the commissary department, testified that he was not permitted to check or inspect certain supplies, the adjutant refusing with the statement that the men employed were of high character and could not be guilty of the charge.

The mysterious disappearance of Senator Chamberlain's overcoat while the senatorial investigators were inspecting the soldiers' home and farm caused an uproar today. The company commanders were ordered to institute a search late today but the garment could not be found. It was valued at $350.

"Father's sad commentary on the hearing facilities here," Senator Chamberlain is reported to have remarked when announcing his loss.

FOREIGN RELATIONS MESSAGE SENT TO CONGRESS BY TAFT

PRESIDENT WILLIAM HOWARD TAFT.

SENATE IMPEACHMENT COURT FOR TRIAL OF JUDGE ARCHBALD

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3.—The Senate at 12:30 resolved itself into a high court of impeachment to try Robt. W. Archbald, associate justice of the new commerce court, on the charges of "misbehavior and misdeeds in office." President Pro Tem Bacon formally declared the Senate a court. After agreeing on a formal procedure, the Senate adjourned.

Judge Archbald will take no personal part in the conduct of his case before the Senate, but will leave the presentation of his defense entirely to his lawyers.

This trial had its inception in a complaint filed last February before Interstate Commerce Commissioner Henry B. Meyer, by William P. Boland, president and general manager of the Marfan Coal Co., of Scranton, Pa.

Use of his office for personal profit is the substance of all of the charges against the defendant. He is charged with attempting to float deals in refuse coal deposits in Pennsylvania, through railroad officials, and also improper receipt of favors from attorneys before his court.

The indictment consists of thirteen articles, scathing and bitter. Archbald denies all the charges. The indictment presented by the House to the Senate after a hearing before seven representatives, was sustained in the House by the necessary majority for impeachment. Two-thirds of the Senate is needed to oust Archbald. Seventy witnesses were heard before the House, and it is likely that 100 witnesses will be called by the government and the defense in the Senate trial.

This is the ninth time in the history of the Senate that impeachment proceedings have been held. The last one was that of Judge Swayne, federal district judge in Florida, tried and acquitted in 1905.

CALIFORNIA AUTHOR DEAD

SAN BERNARDINO, Dec. 3.—W. G. Wright, aged 70, a noted naturalist and student of bird life, was found dead last night in his favorite chair, at his home on F street, where he had lived alone for many years. He had evidently died suddenly. In his hand was held a Sunday paper.

Wright was the author of a number of books, among them a profusely illustrated publication on "Butterflies of the Pacific Coast."

It is probable that the action brought by Progressives to gain for Roosevelt electors votes lost to them through errors in the Fifth and Seventh precincts of Santa Ana will be settled by a stipulation entered into by Attorneys Keech & Davis and W. H. Thomas, representing the plaintiff Progressives, Attorney H. C. Head, representing the Democrats, and District Attorney L. A. West, representing the Board of Supervisors and County Clerk Williams.

A conference has been held by the attorneys. Attorney Head is to consult Burdette Chandler of Los Angeles, representing the State Democratic committee, and will decide with him the procedure that will be taken by the Democrats.

ADVISES U. S. TO PRESENT UNITED FRONT TO WORLD

Favors Agricultural Credit
System of Europe for Adoption Here

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3.—A message from President Taft on the foreign relations of the United States was presented to Congress today. In the message President Taft recommended that the International Waterways Committee be allowed to finish its report on the proposed dam at the outlet of Lake Erie and report on the boundary dispute before the beginning of the service of the International Joint Commission, which succeeds it.

The message deals largely with international affairs. "The foreign relations of the United States," says the opening sentences, "actually and potentially affects the state of the Union to a degree not widely realized and hardly surpassed by any other factor in the welfare of the whole nation."

Continuing, the message says, in part:

"The position of the United States in the moral, intellectual, and material relations of the family of nations should be a matter of vital interest to every patriotic citizen. The national prosperity and power impose upon us duties which we cannot shirk if we are to be true to our ideals. The tremendous growth of the export trade of the United States has already made that trade a very real factor in the industrial and commercial prosperity of the country. With the development of our industries the foreign commerce of the United States must rapidly become a still more essential factor in its economic welfare. Whether we have a far-seeing and wise diplomacy and are not recklessly plunged into unnecessary wars, and whether our foreign policies are based upon an intelligent grasp of present-day world conditions and a clear view of the potentialities of the future, or are governed by a temporary and timid expediency or by narrow views befitting an infant nation, are questions in the alternative consideration of which must convince any thoughtful citizen that no department of national policy offers greater opportunity for promoting the interests of the whole people on the one hand, or greater chance on the other of permanent national injury, than that which deals with the foreign relations of the United States."

"The fundamental foreign policies of the United States should be raised high above the conflict of partisanship and wholly dissociated from differences as to domestic policy. In its foreign affairs the United States should present to the world a united front. The intellectual, financial and industrial interests of the country and the publicist, the wage earner, the farmer, and citizen of whatever occupation must co-operate in a spirit of high patriotism to promote that national solidarity which is indispensable to national efficiency and to the attainment of national ideals."

"The relations of the United States with all foreign powers remain upon a sound basis of peace, harmony, and friendship. A greater insistence upon justice to American citizens or interests wherever it may have been denied and a stronger emphasis of the need of mutuality in commercial and other relations have only served to strengthen our friendships with foreign countries by placing those friendships upon a firm foundation of realities as well as aspirations."

Before briefly reviewing the more important events of the last year in our foreign relations, which it is my duty to do as charged with their conduct and because diplomatic affairs are not of a nature to make it appropriate that the Secretary of State make a formal annual report, I desire to touch upon some of the essentials to the safe management of the foreign relations of the United States and to endeavor, also, to define clearly certain concrete policies which are the logical modern corollaries of the undisputed and traditional fundamentals of the foreign policy of the United States."

KEEPS TAB ON THREE BRIDGES

McBride Thinks West Fifth St. Structure Will be Finished in About Two Months

At the present time Orange county has three bridges under course of construction, and County Surveyor McBride has plans for a fourth.

It will be two months before the West Fifth street bridge is completed. That bridge will cost about $18,250. It is composed of three 100-foot spans. In digging for the piers some of the debris dumped into the river years ago was unearthed. This morning while the county surveyor was inspecting the work, an old stove was dug out of the sand, which is seven feet deeper now than it was when the stove was thrown away.

The $7500 reinforced concrete bridge on Tustin avenue across the Santiago creek is practically completed so far as the bridge is concerned. The county surveyor considered the job an excellent one until it came to the finishing of the railing, which seemed to have been done hurriedly. The surveyor made the contractor chisel off some of the cement decorations, and put in new ones.

Today men under instructions from Supervisor Struck began building the dirt approaches. These approaches will be finished in about two weeks and the bridge open to the use of the public. This bridge is two 55-foot spans.

A concrete bridge of two 30-foot spans is being built across the Trabuco creek at San Juan Capistrano, on the road running on the west side of the mission valley below the mission. This bridge will cost about $2500.

McBride has the plans for a new wooden bridge to be put across the Santa Ana river on the Meyers road, two miles south of Talbert road.

CIVIC PLEDGE IS REPEATED

Woman's Civics Club Calls Attention to the Value of it in Schools

The following article from the Woman's Bulletin is printed at the request of the Woman's Civics Club of this city, as expressing a sentiment of more than passing interest:

"Mayor Fitzgerald of Boston has revived the ancient 'Oath of the Athenian Youth.' A short time ago, at his suggestion, the 125,000 school children of that city were required to read it. The incident is worthy of imitation throughout the country.

"If our boys and girls, the coming citizens of America, can be in any way impressed with the sacred obligation of citizenship the nation will become at once the gainer.

"The periodic recital of this old Athenian pledge, as appropriate now as in the days of Pericles, offers a ready and attractive means by which the pride of our American youth may be stimulated on behalf of civic righteousness. There is indeed no reason why we should not all repeat it, young and old together, and take it to heart and abide by it. Here it is: 'We will never bring disgrace to this, our city, by any act of dishonesty or cowardice, nor ever desert our suffering comrades in the ranks. We will fight for the ideals and sacred things of the city, both alone and with many. We will revere and obey the city's laws and do our best to inculcate a like respect and reverence in those above us who are prone to annul or set them at naught. We will strive unceasingly to quicken the public's sense of civic duty. Thus, in all these ways, we will transmit this city to those that follow, not less, but greater, better and more beautiful than it was transmitted to us.'"

AVALANCHE OF BOGUS CHECKS

Trusted Employee of Brea Store is Wanted by Police for No-Fund Paper

Brea had quite an experience with bad checks last Saturday afternoon, in which one of the well known and trusted young men of the vicinity seems to have had a prominent part. At any rate, there is a warrant out for his arrest on a charge of passing a $25 no-fund check on Lloyd Ferguson, the Brea druggist. The young man's name is S. D. Carver. He has been employed at Hoffman's Brea Canyon store. Recently another young man appeared at Brea. He is said to have been in cahoots with Carver. Last Saturday afternoon he had several checks made out and signed by Carver. These he endeavored to cash at various places, and generally succeeded, for Carver was well known. In one or two instances he got endorsements so that he could get the checks cashed at Stern-Goodman's store, where he was not known.

Both young men disappeared. A garage man named Crawford discovered he had been stung, and he went at once to Los Angeles, where he found the man from whose $50 check he had cashed, and from him Crawford got back $45.

Carver owed Ferguson $5, and presented him with a check for $25 and got $20 change. The checks were all on the La Habra Valley Bank, where Carver had not sufficient funds to make the payments.

HEADACHY, BILIOUS, UPSET? "CASCARETS"

It's Your Inactive Liver and Bowels—You Need Cascarets Sure

You're bilious, you have a throbbing sensation in your head, a bad taste in your mouth, your eyes burn, your skin is yellow, with dark rings under your eyes; your lips are parched. No wonder you feel ugly, mean and ill-tempered. Your system is full of bile not properly passed off, and what you need is a cleaning up inside. Don't continue being a bilious nuisance to yourself and those who love you, and don't resort to harsh physics that irritate and injure. Remember that most disorders of the stomach, liver and intestines can be quickly cured by morning with gentle, thorough Cascarets—they work while you sleep. A 10-cent box from your druggist will keep your liver and bowels clean; stomach sweet and your head clear for months. Children love to take Cascarets, because they taste good and never gripe or sicken.

SCAMP ON ROCK PILE—WIFE WILL GET $1.50 A DAY

Los Angeles Examiner: For eighteen months, beginning this morning, Julien Garnett, 24 years old, must swing a sledge hammer on the county rock pile, while his wife and two small children are paid $1.50 by the Board of Supervisors.

Judge Conley, sitting for Judge McCormick, in Department Twelve of the Supreme Court, scored the defendant as a worthless scamp in sentencing him to the lowest term of its kind ever meted out to a man refusing to support his family.

"Your record is a disgrace to yourself and a humiliation to your little family," said the court. "I find also you have been arrested a half dozen times in the past four years for other offenses, several of them serious. The rock pile just suits your case. I propose to see to it that your family profits from your incarceration. As to your chance to fall down, there will be none."

Garnett is the first offender to pay to penalty to such an extent under the recently enacted rock-pile statute. His case is the last to be disposed of in criminal court, this class of offenders now being taken care of by Judge Monroe in connection with his assignment of the divorce cases.

HEARD REPORTS OF OLDER BOYS' MEET

Success of Pomona Conference Inspired Y. M. C. A.'s; New President Greeted

The local Y. M. C. A. held a very successful meeting last evening at the United Presbyterian church. There was a fairly good attendance, but not as many were out as should have been considering the importance and interest of the meeting. Several delegates from Santa Ana to the Older Boys' Conference held at Pomona the latter part of last week gave excellent reports. Malcolm Tedford, the newly elected president of the conference, was present and was one who gave a report. All certainly "did themselves proud" and when they had finished everyone expressed the wish that the

WHITTIER STUDENTS MARRY AT SANTA ANA

A secret courtship and runaway marriage was discovered yesterday morning by the students of Whittier College, when Miss Elizabeth Milhouse and Russell Harrison confessed on their arrival at school that they had been married at Santa Ana last Friday.

They will continue their college course until next June when they both graduate. The bride is the daughter of Frank Milhouse, a rancher of Whittier, and Harrison comes from Indianapolis.

They are now staying at the home of the girl's parents at Whittier. Both announced that they did not intend to let their marriage interfere with their graduation, and that they would complete their senior year.

Cottolene makes delicious pastry

It's the last word in pastry-making. It makes cakes so light and airy that every morsel tastes like "more."

Digestible too, because Cottolene food is never greasy.

Cottolene is better than lard, because it's a vegetable—not an animal—product. It is richer—use one-third less.

Cottolene is cheaper than butter—costs no more than lard, and will give better results than either. Use one-third less than butter also.

Cottolene is never sold in bulk—always in air-tight tin pails, which protect it from dirt, dust and odors. It is always uniform and dependable.

convention had been held in Santa Ana so that all might have had the opportunity to attend. The young men had a great time, and they found the people of Pomona very hospitable and willing to help in every way to make the convention a great success. The resolutions brought by the different delegates were inspiring, the boys coming home with renewed spirit and interest prepare the work here in Santa Ana.

Prof. McMath of the local high school gave a very fine talk which it would have been well for every young man in this city to have heard. He spoke on the relation of the association to the high school and said that he was very glad to see the leaders of the high school in the association. At the convention several said that they noticed that the leading boys from the different high schools of Southern California were the leaders of the association work in their respective schools. This was very gratifying, and it plainly showed that the day of the "rough-neck" has passed and that the young men of these times are seeking to do the right thing in every phase of their lives. The meeting was dismissed by a short prayer by Prof. McMath.

CALL ELECTION FOR DECEMBER 28TH

Charter Vote is to be Taken in Ten Precincts—Ordinance Read

CITY IS TO SUPPLY WATER TO ROMER

Hitching Racks are to be Taken From Lots at Corner of Third and French

The charter election has been set for December 28. The date was set by the city trustees at their meeting last night. The ordinance calling the election on the charter was read by the city clerk. The ordinance will be finally passed on Dec. 16. Polls will be open from 6 a.m. to 6 p.m. It was decided to divide the city into ten precincts, having ten polling places. The names of election officers and polling places were included in the reading. The compensation of election officers was fixed at $4 each. Mayor Ly reported that he had made arrangements with J. Cassou of Anahem for widening Flower street between Pine and Walnut, the city to put in a cement curb, Cassou to put in a cement sidewalk. The agreement was ratified by accepting a map presented.

A protest was entered against the proposed sidewalk of Logan street between Washington and Fruit, and Washington avenue between the railroads. The protest was against sidewalk on Logan only. The petition, so far as it concerned Washington avenue was about to be granted, but was referred back to get the signatures of the owners on the two streets segregated.

Want New Street
A petition asking for the opening of a street on the line between the Morse Villa tract and Flower Street Acres, beginning at Flower street and running west to Shelton. The matter was referred to the street committee for investigation. Mr. Teel appeared in favor of the petition. A communication from S. Hill, owner of the Flower Street Acres, stated that all propositions he has made for subdivisions are on.

The Woman's Civic League was granted permission to meet at the city hall the afternoon of the first Saturday of each month. The trustees endorsed the plan of the League for getting vacant lots and frontages cleaned up. The league will write letters to owners of unsightly lots asking them to clean up the lots.

Connect With Sewer
W. L. Duggan, president of the school board, asked that some action be taken to connect Spurgeon school with the sewer main by December 29, when the school will be put in use.

Sewer Superintendent Reid said the main is not now in use and has no flush tanks and will have none until the laterals are laid, unless a temporary flush tank, costing $80, is put in. Even at that there would be trouble with sewer gas. The laterals will not be in use for four or five months. Out of the cost of $80, about $40 worth of material.

The trustees ordered the connection with the school, the expense to be met by the school district.

Graham, owner of lots at Third and French, said he is paying $53.88 taxes on those lots, the city tax being $16.38. The lots are used for hitching racks. At first it was proposed to rebate the city taxes. Graham said he would not agree to let the racks stay on the lots. He said Graham's company had owned the lots but three months. On McPherson's motion, it was decided to clear the lots of the racks.

By stated that the S. P. has not yet put a culvert under the tracks at the Twentieth street crossing. Engineer Finley said a culvert is necessary in order to drain the street. The city attorney was instructed to give the S. P. the "most forceful notice in his power" to put in the culvert at once.

outside the city limits. It was pointed out that the city attorney says that legally the city cannot deliver water outside the limits. It was brought out that at present the city does sell to others outside the city. The city furnishes water to the Monaghan place and to a man on the Santiago creek, both outside the city.

"My advice is to cut those people off," said Heathman.
Grubbs favored delivering the water to Meachander and his neighbor, Romer. Both have land inside the city. Romer asked the city to extend the main 1000 feet, and deliver the water to Meachander at the city line. Romer lives inside the limits, but wants to have his neighbors outside supplied also, so that the cost of the extension be reduced per capita.

"Can a man inside of the city compel the city to make a connection even if it has to lay 1000 feet?" asked Greenleaf.

"No," said Heathman.
"The water system is being operated at a profit," said Greenleaf, "and I think Romer has a right to demand that we supply him with city water. I move the superintendent be instructed to lay the pipe from Grand avenue to the city limits on Santa Clara avenue." The motion carried. This is to supply Romer's house.

The application of J. H. Slaback for a rebate of taxes because he was an old soldier and failed to get an exemption was granted. His city tax was about $10.

The clerk was instructed to advertise for sale the gas franchise, proposed to be bought by the Southern Counties Gas Co.

Made a Misdemeanor
The amendment to the fire ordinance making it a misdemeanor to allow inflammable materials to gather against buildings was passed, and order against publication. Owners are to be given forty-eight hours' notice for removing debris before an arrest can be made. The amendment covers the entire city.

Trustee Alderman proposed that the city pass an ordinance allowing any merchant to erect in front of his place of business any kind of a sign he sees fit, provided the sign be safe. By said such a change would be going back to the old times. He thought it was proposed only to change the ordinance to allow electric signs to be installed. The matter was referred to the city attorney.

The water superintendent was instructed to have the water plant re-roofed.

Asks for Bids
A resolution was passed asking for paving intersections of Bush street from Fifth to Washington. The base is to be four-inch concrete and the surface is to be one-inch asphalt. Bids are to be opened Dec. 16. These bids are asked as the city is to pay for intersections on the street, which is to be paved by private contract.

H. J. Forgy said the El-Oso people, who have the private contract, are ready to go to work soon. They expect to bid on the intersections. Alderman said he thought the property owners should pay for the engineering work and for inspection. The

THE FEAR OF GOD.

It is plain indeed that we fear God sincerely and worship him in truth, since, whether by life or by death, we desire his name to be hallowed and hatred herself had been forced to bear testimony to the innocence and civil integrity of some of our people on whom death was inflicted for the very thing which deserved the highest praise. But if any under pretext of the gospel exalte themselves, there are laws and legal punishments by which they may be punished up to the measure of their deserts. Only in the meantime let not the gospel of God be evil spoke of because of the iniquities of the evil man.—John Calvin.

THE CHARTER OUGHT TO BE ADOPTED

In the judgment of this newspaper, the proposed new city charter ought to be adopted. Like all human-made things it is probably far from perfect. But also like all products of honest, intelligent, patriotic effort, the result of public service on the part of good citizens, it is probably a distinct improvement upon the general state law governing municipalities—a law designed for villages and small towns of from a few hundred to five thousand inhabitants.

Flaws may be picked in this charter, some of them real and some of them imaginary; some of them worth considering, some of them too trivial for serious notice. But on the whole we believe the sincere well-wisher of the city will find in this charter much more of good than of bad, more of strength than of weakness.

Also, we believe that most of the apparent objections that may be pointed out with sincerity of right purpose will, upon examination and analysis, be found to be superficial—objections only in seeming.

For instance, the objection has already been offered, that under the proposed charter the expenses of the city will be increased. We have not enquired into this, but venture the suggestion that an increase of salaries does not necessarily mean an increase in expenses. If the mayor's salary is increased, say $1000, and he saves the city $2000 or $3000, there is a net decrease of expenses on that account of $1000 or $4000. And so it may be in other offices and departments.

Moreover, if under the proposed charter the salaries of officers should cost the city, say $2000 more than is now being paid, and if the officers should pay out $10,000 more for operating expenses, still the city might be a distinct gainer. It is not a question of what we spend, within our means, but of what we get for our money.

Another point to consider is, that even though we should continue under our present form of government, we certainly shall find ourselves face to face with the necessity of an increased salary list. To run this city as it ought to be run—as people demand that it shall be run—will require either well-paid mayor and trustees or high-priced heads of departments.

Santa Ana is no longer a village; it is a big town or small city, as you may choose, and is growing at a rapid rate.

THE STATE HIGHWAY

The Register believes that in selecting the interior route for improvement as a state highway, the State Highway Commission has done the thing that meets with the entire approval of a very large proportion of the people of the country. The Register favors the building of a boulevard along the coast, and hopes to see a boulevard constructed there within the next two or three years. But a state highway should be located where it will be of the greatest use to the greatest number, and facts and figures were long since produced showing that an interior macadam road would be of advantage to a larger proportion of the people of the country than would a macadam road joining the coast towns. Something like eighty per cent of the assessed valuation of the county and well over ninety per cent of the population might be said to be tributary to the interior road, which will be built on the present main road from Whittier through this county to the San Diego county line. The State Highway Commission has expressed itself as having fully settled upon the route, and the agitation being carried on by the Coast Boulevard Association cannot do any good except to engender suspicion between the coast and the interior sections. An example of this danger is at hand in an editorial in the Newport News. The editorial states that some "leading citizens of Santa Ana" have threatened that Santa Ana will fight Newport Beach's harbor plans unless Newport Beach lets up on its endeavoring as a member of the Coast Boulevard Association to get the State Highway Commission to abandon the interior route and select the beach resorts route. Certainly no persons speaking with authority could have made any remarks that could have been construed into such a statement as is attributed by the beach paper to Santa Ana. If anyone in Santa Ana feels that way about it, we do not know who he is.

We believe that the selection of the interior route was done in the exercise of good judgment and in a spirit of justice and fair play. We do not believe it would have been fair to the entire county to have located it elsewhere. On the other hand, the highway controversy has made no difference whatever in the opinion Santa Ana holds concerning Newport Harbor. We need that harbor. We should and must and will work with Newport Beach to accomplish the improvement of the harbor. Santa Ana can be counted on to put its shoulder to the wheel for Newport Harbor at every available opportunity, regardless of whether the macadam road runs over El Camino Real by the Mission San Juan Capistrano or along the wonderful stretch of coast from Bay City to San Juan-by-the-Sea.

GOV. WILSON HEARS TARIFF FROM BER. MUDAN VIEWPOINT

HAMILTON, Bermuda, Dec. 3.—Governor Wilson attended the Bermuda House Assembly yesterday afternoon and heard the annual tariff discussion, in the course of which seed potatoes were proposed for the free list and turnips for an increased duty to encourage the farmers.

The debate was probably similar to that in which Governor Wilson, as President, soon will figure at Washington. The Governor also heard the report of the estimated tariff receipts, listening intently, following the items from a printed schedule which had been given to him.

A Good Work Started By Club Committee

A clean-up movement has been started in Santa Ana and it is the ambition of those behind the movement to have the city, by January 1st, 1913, in every respect a clean and sanitary home city. An earnest invitation is extended to every resident within the city limits to join in the good work.

Vacant lots, parkings, alleys and back yards will need most attention. The committee in charge requests that all insanitary places be reported to the city Health Officer.

Santa Ana has many natural resources unknown to other cities and if our civic pride needs a stimulus let us get busy along this line and watch the results.

This work will not be a burden to any one if all the citizens will join forces to urge it on. "A long pull and a strong pull and an all pull together" will bring about marvelous results.

point out that, at the beginning of his administration, the "Department of State was an archaic and inadequate machine lacking most of the attributes of the foreign office of any great modern power," and then follows a review of the reorganization of the department, with recommendations for further improvement.

The message then goes on to review international affairs and relations, such as "our successful efforts in promotion of peace," beneficence of our commercial policy in China—and the needs of Central America in the way of help from us that will enable those countries to help themselves.

Other subjects touched upon briefly are our Mexican policy and the visit of Secretary Knox to Central America.

Agricultural Credits
"A most important work, accomplished in the past year by the American diplomatic officers in Europe, is the investigation of the agricultural credit system in European countries. Both as a means to afford relief to the consumers of this country through a more thorough development of agricultural resources and as a means of more sufficiently maintaining the agricultural population, the project to establish credit facilities for the farmers is a concern of vital importance to this nation. No evidence of prosperity among well-established farmers should blind us to the fact that lack of capital is preventing a development of the nation's agricultural resources and an adequate increase of the land under cultivation; that agricultural production is fast falling behind the increase in population; and that, in fact, although these well-established farmers are maintained in increasing prosperity because of the natural increase in population, we are not developing the industry of agriculture. We are not breeding in proportionate numbers a race of independent and independence-loving landowners, for a lack of which no growth of cities can compensate. Our farmers have been our mainstay in times of crisis, and in future it must still largely be upon their stability and common sense that this democracy must rely to conserve its principles of self-government."

"The need of capital which American farmers feel today had been experienced by the farmers of Europe, with their centuries-old farms, many years ago. The problem had been successfully solved in the Old World and it was evident that the farmers of this country might profit by a study of their systems." I therefore ordered, through the Department of State, an investigation to be made by the diplomatic officers in Europe, and I have laid the results of this investigation before the governors of the various states with the hope that they will be used to advantage in their forthcoming meeting."

Maximum and Minimum Tariff
Under this heading occurs the only reference to the tariff. After preliminary discussion, the President says: "I cannot too strongly recommend to the Congress the passage of some such enabling measure as the bill which was recommended by the Secretary of State in his letter of December 13, 1911. The object of the proposed legislation is, in brief, to enable the executive to apply, as the case may require, to any or all commodities, whether or not on the free list from a country which discriminates against the United States, a graduated scale of duties up to the maximum of 25 per cent ad valorem provided in the present law. Flat tariffs are out of date. Nations no longer accord equal tariff treatment to all other nations irrespective of the treatment from them received. Such a flexible power at the command of the executive would serve to moderate any unfavorable tendencies on the part of those countries from which the importations into the United States are substantially confined to articles on the free list as well as of the countries which find a lucrative market in the United States for their products under existing customs rates. It is very necessary that the American government should be equipped with weapons of negotiation adapted to modern economic conditions, in order that we may at all times be in a position to gain not only technically just but actually equitable treatment for our trade, and also for American enterprise and vested interests abroad.

Imperial Valley and Mexico
"In order to make possible the more effective performance of the work necessary for the confinement in their present channel of the waters of the lower Colorado River, and thus to protect the people of the Imperial Valley, as well as in order to reach with the government of Mexico an understanding regarding the distribution of the waters of the Colorado river, in which both governments are much interested, negotiations are going forward with a view to the establishment of a preliminary Colorado river commission, which shall have the powers necessary to enable it to do the needful work and with authority to study the question of the equitable distribution of the waters. There is every reason to believe that an understanding upon this point will be reached and that an agreement will be signed in the near future."

Expansion of Our Foreign Trade
"It is not possible to make to the Congress a communication upon the present foreign relations of the United States so detailed as to convey an adequate impression of the enormous increase in the importance and activities of those relations. If this government is really to preserve to the American people that free opportunity in foreign markets which will soon be indispensable to our prosperity, even greater efforts must be made. Otherwise the American merchant, manufacturer and exporter will find many a field in which American trade should logically predominate preempted through the more energetic efforts of other governments and other commercial nations.

"There are many ways in which through hearty co-operation the legislative and executive branches of this government can do much. The absolute essential is the spirit of united effort and singleness of purpose. I will allude only to a few specific examples of action which ought then to result. America can not take its proper place in the most important fields for its commercial activity and enterprise unless we have a merchant marine. American commerce and enterprise can not be effectively fostered in those fields unless we have good American banks in the countries referred to. We need American newspapers in those countries and proper means for public information about them. We need to insure the permanency of a trained foreign service. We need legislation to enable the members of the foreign service to be systematically brought in direct contact with the industrial, manufacturing, and exporting interests of this country in order that American business men may enter the foreign field with a clear perception of the exact conditions to be dealt with and the officers themselves may prosecute their work with a clear idea of what American industrial and manufacturing interests require.

Conclusion
"Congress should fully realize the conditions which obtain in the world as we find ourselves at the threshold of our middle age as a Nation. We have emerged full grown as a peer in the great concourse of nations. We have passed through various formative periods. We have been self-centered in the struggle to develop our domestic resources and deal with our domestic questions. The Nation is now too mature to continue in its former relations those temporary expedients natural to a people to whom domestic affairs are the sole concern. In the past our diplomacy has often consisted, in normal times, in a mere assertion of the right to international existence. We are now in a larger relation with broader rights of our own and obligations to others than ourselves. A number of great guiding principles were laid down in the early history of this government. The recent task of our diplomacy has been to adjust these principles to the conditions of today, to develop their corollaries, to find practical applications of old principles expanded to meet new situations. Thus are being evolved bases upon which can rest the superstructure of policies which must grow with the destined progress of the nation. The successful conduct of our foreign relations demands a broad and a modern view. We can not meet new questions nor build for the future if we confine ourselves to outworn dogmas of the past and to the perspective appropriate at our emergence from colonial times and conditions. The opening of the Panama Canal will mark a new era in our international life and create new and world-wide conditions which, with their vast correlations and consequences, will obtain for hundreds of years to come. We must not wait for events to overtake us unawares. With continuity of purpose we must deal with the problems of our external relations by a diplomatic modern, resourceful, magnanimous, and fittingly expressive of the high ideals of a great nation."

MRS. BOWES HONORED

Invited to Install Eastern Star Chapter in Orange—Given Beautiful Souvenir

The officers of Scepter Chapter, O. E. S., of Orange, were installed last night, the installing officer being Mrs. Maude E. Bowes, past grand matron of the California Grand Chapter of Hermosa Chapter of the Eastern Star, and past worthy matron of Hermosa Chapter of Santa Ana. Mrs. May T. Willis of Orange acted as grand marshal. The installing work was beautifully done.

At the close of the ceremonies Past Matron Mrs. Mary W. Downs of Scepter Chapter presented Mrs. Bowes with a cut-glass salad dish. Mrs. Bowes thanked the chapter for the honor of being invited to conduct the installation and also for the beautiful gift from the members.

The banquet room was the next scene of interest to members and guests and a pleasant social hour was spent about the banquet table loaded with good things to eat.

Recent Family Reunion

A family reunion and big turkey dinner were given at the cozy home of Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Purdom, 1516 North Broadway, Santa Ana, Sunday. The table was loaded down with many good things to eat and the day proved to be a most enjoyable one for all. Mrs. Purdom (nee Miss Hattie Johnson) got up the reunion.

There were present Mrs. L. A. Johnson, of Durant and Fifteenth streets, Santa Ana, mother of Mrs. Purdom, and the latter's three brothers, Marvin Johnson, cashier of the American Type Foundry, Los Angeles, and his wife and three sons; Chas. Johnson, a walnut and orange grower, and wife, of Tustin; Edgar Johnson, who has been actively engaged in newspaper work in Southern California for twenty-five years; Dr. Purdom, father of T. M. Purdom; J. E. Thomas of Fullerton, a life-long friend of the Johnson family; and Mrs. M. E. Shropshire and nephew of Los Angeles, relatives of the Purdoms.

Mrs. L. A. Johnson and daughter have been residents of Santa Ana for nearly thirty years and all of the Johnson boys were brought up in Santa Ana. Up to six years ago there had not been a death in the Johnson family in twenty-five years. It will be remembered that M. H. Johnson, the well known senior member of the family and a pioneer of this city, died in Santa Ana a little over six years ago, and that Carey Johnson, the youngest son, who had hundreds of friends, died here about a year later at the age of 23 years.

HERMOSA CHAPTER, O. E. S.

Held Yearly Installation and Banquet Last Night at Masonic Temple

The annual installation banquet and installation of officers of Hermosa Chapter, O. E. S., took place last night with Mrs. Mary L. Balderston, retiring worthy matron, conducting the installation ceremonies.

The banquet preceded the evening meeting, being served shortly after 6:30 o'clock. The tables were resplendent in decorations of yellow and greenery, ferns and brown-eyed Susans being employed. The center table was spread under festoons of yellow and the retiring officers and of officers-elect with guests from out of town were seated at this table. The elaborate menu, excellently prepared and served by members of an efficient committee headed by Mrs. W. S. Decker, was enjoyed by two or three hundred people.

The installation of officers was impressively conducted by Mrs. Balderston, who has very efficiently served the chapter as worthy matron during the past year. She was ably assisted last evening by Mrs. A. A. Avery as marshal. The officers installed were:

Martha—Anna B. Clevenger.
Electa—Bessie Meyer.

After the officers had been installed Mrs. Tope, the new matron, was called on for a speech and responded in a few appropriate remarks. Mr. McCormac then spoke at length. Mrs. Boyd, past district deputy; Mr. Chamberlain, Mrs. Kemp, matron and patron of Chispa Chapter of Anaheim, and Mary Cotter made brief talks. The retiring matron, Mrs. Balderston, presented the incoming matron with a bouquet of beautiful carnations and the retiring patron, C. P. Crose, was also presented a bouquet of lovely carnations by the officers of the chapter. Mrs. Grubb making the presentation.

The retiring matron was then presented with a very beautiful past matron's jewel, being the gift of the chapter. The presentation speech was made by the patron, Mr. Crose, Mrs. Balderston replying happily.

"The Chocolate Soldier" will be followed on December 10 by "The Rosary," which is heralded as one of the greatest successes of the Eastern stage, having achieved veritable triumphs in New York, Boston and Chicago.

Travel Clubs Meet
The Travelers were entertained yesterday in regular meeting by Mrs. L. C. Skinner, 1104 North Main street. A cheery, merrily crackling open fire gave an atmosphere of hominess and coziness to the beautiful rooms where the ladies assembled while they read of Ancient Greece as it existed 300 years B.C. To be a Traveller, one must be willing to traverse the "sounding corridors of time" as well as the more cheerful pathways of modern days.

Safely away from those historical days of a dim and distant past, as portrayed on the printed page, the Travellers yielded themselves to the gracious present, enjoying the hour of relaxing chatter that always follows the study period of the club. Mrs. Skinner made this too brief an hour more enjoyable by serving delicious light refreshments.

Almost the entire membership of the section was present at yesterday's meeting.

The Second Section of the Travel Department of the Elbel Club met at the charming home of Mrs. J. E. Liebig on Pine street yesterday afternoon. Possibly two-thirds of the club membership was present to participate in the afternoon's readings from Stoddard's "Canada."

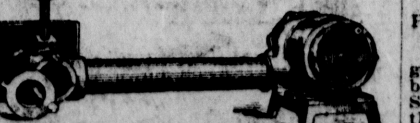

Half a dozen different ladies read from the marvelous descriptions of the lakes and other beautiful picturesque sections of our Northern neighbor. The latest volume of Stoddard's travels is almost completed by this section and after the readings the ladies discussed a choice for future study without, however, arriving at a decisive conclusion.

Mrs. Liebig dispensed pleasant hospitality by serving delicious home-made cake and chocolate for refreshments. It was decided before adjourning that the section would not meet again until in January, 1913.

Orange Growers of Orange Secure Court Order in the Westcott Case

Judgment was entered today by Judge West in favor of M. P. Westcott and against E. L. Gilman of Orange and the Edmund Peycke Company of Los Angeles for $9478.23, of which $8400.21 is principal and $1078.02 interest. This action was brought by Westcott as assignee of thirty-two orange growers who delivered oranges two years ago to Gilman's packing house at Orange. Gilman went into bankruptcy, and named the growers as creditors. The growers, however, declared Gilman was an agent of the Edmund Peycke Company of Los Angeles, and brought suit against both of them. Judge West decided that the Peycke Company was responsible. Steele Finley as referee brought in a report of the various sums due the growers, and today judgment was entered. It is understood that the Peycke Company will appeal. Scarborough & Forgy and W. H. Thomas are attorneys for Westcott and Gilman & Clark for the defendants.

The act makes it a crime to sell, with intent to ruin competition, a commodity in general use to a dealer in one place at a lower rate than to another dealer at a different place within the state.

TASTE, SMELL AND HEARING RESTORED

A Simple, Harmless Remedy Quickly Relieves Catarrhal Deafness

The thousands who suffer the miseries of colds and catarrh and claim they have never found a cure can get instant relief by simply anointing the nostrils with Ely's Cream Balm.

Unlike internal remedies which upset the stomach, or strong snuffs which only aggravate the trouble, this cleansing, healing, antiseptic Balm instantly reaches the seat of the trouble, stops the nasty discharge, clears the nose, head and throat, and brings back the sense of taste, smell and improves the hearing. More than this, it strengthens the weakened and diseased tissues, thus protecting you against a return of the trouble. This remedy will cure a cold in a day, and prevent its becoming chronic or resulting in catarrh.

Nasal catarrh is an inflammation of the membrane lining the air passages, and cannot be reached by mixtures taken into the stomach, nor can it be cured by snuffs and powders which only cause additional irritation. Don't waste time on them. Get a 50 cent bottle of Ely's Cream Balm from your druggist, and after using it for a day you will wish you had tried it sooner. Mothers should give the children Ely's Cream Balm for colds and croup. It is perfectly harmless, and pleasant to take. Rowley Drug Company.—Advertisement.

SANTA ANA, CALIFORNIA, TUESDAY EVENING, DECEMBER 3, 1912.

A NEW DAY IS DAWNING FOR WOMEN OF ANCIENT CHINA

Miss Grace Rowley Tells of Remarkable Spirit Shown on "Independence Day" of Chinese Republic

The following splendid letter telling of "wedge" in the time-old customs of Chinese women, written by one who helped drive the wedge, will be read with the greatest interest, not only because it was written by one of the girls of whom Santa Ana is proud, Miss Grace Rowley, but because it shows the glimmering of a better day for the women of ancient China, now one of the world's republics:

Wei Hsien, China, Oct. 21, 1912.
Dear Friends:—Perhaps you did not realize that October 19th was a red letter day in the world's history, but it was nevertheless, I say the world, because China with her four hundred millions does comprise a good share of the world, and the changes that are so rapidly taking place in China are affecting other nations also. I am going to tell you about what took place Oct. 19th and you will think it a wonderful day, too. That an old conservative city like Wei Hsien should have been the scene of last Saturday's events would have been undreamed of a year ago, and we are still marvelling at the wonder of it. Wei Hsien, the center of unprogressive conservatism, was shaken to the foundations.
On Oct. 10th the Chinese celebrated their "Fourth of July." This was the beginning of the revolution last year and is to be a national holiday. Our Chinese school girls marched in a procession to the church carrying their flags along with the college and boys' school. Later the boys went into the city but the girls of course could not go.

The boys were well received and the city people were duly impressed with their numbers and with their enthusiastic patriotism. The next day the city schools came here to pay their respects and see this fine large school for themselves. So the following day our boys thought it best to return the compliment. Our girls, of course, were left out of all this, and we rather laughingly intimated that they were being slighted. One of the Chinese professors who had been a leader in all these things, took the matter up and said he thought it was time the girls went to the city too and offered to secure us an invitation to a wealthy family's flower garden. The invitation was secured, and last Saturday was set as the day. Then the Republican Propaganda Society, which is stirring up the people and educating them as to their duties in the new republic, heard of our coming and conceived the idea of holding a woman's meeting and having speeches relating to the woman's part and her duties, etc. Accordingly two of the older girls were chosen and our native teacher, Mrs. Tien, and Mrs. Mateer. There was only a day given for preparation. They intended to put up a notice and hoped it would call out a few "Tai Tais," but said we were not to be disappointed if only a half dozen came, for a woman's meeting of any kind was unheard of in Wei Hsien and especially a political meeting.

We left the compound about 9:30 and a fine procession we made I assure you. First came Prof. Wang of the college who was manager, (a personally conducted tour, you know) and with him Mr. Feng of the girls' school. Then came Miss Rankin and myself with Mrs. Tien and one of the older girls, a graduate of several years standing. Behind them, two by two, all dressed in their best, marched 65 school girls. Mrs. Mateer followed them in a sedan chair then came another teacher, our gateman and a few others, and last of all a cart bearing on either side two bright yellow banners proclaiming that we were the "Wei Mei Shu Quen." As the distance to the city is two miles or more this cart was taken to enable the girls who got very tired to ride a while and get rested. When we arrived at the east suburb we were met by two soldiers who attached themselves to our ranks in the rear. Presently the chief of police in uniform came up and presented his card and joined himself to our escort.

Now a crowd of this sort had never been seen in Wei Hsien streets before, so it was no wonder that we were the center of a good deal of interest. Everywhere the word spread that we were coming and people could be seen running from all directions to see the sight. When they got to the street on which we were marching they were promptly brought to a standstill by our escort. On either side of the street they looked on in silence. It was a good natured crowd, one on whose faces could be seen nothing but legitimate curiosity and friendly interest. In years past foreigners, or even Chinese connected with the foreigners, could not walk the streets of Wei Hsien without being reviled and in one case they were stoned. Think how great a change has taken place then when we can take a whole girls' school and march through the city's very center without causing one unfriendly or unbecoming remark from the bystanders. China is certainly no longer the China of olden days. She has some new red blood in her veins which can be felt pulsating throughout her vast body.

We arrived at last at the Ding's residence, and, after passing through eleven doorways we came into the inner court where the garden was, and were received by Ding Tai Tai herself. We were led into two big reception halls which were elegantly furnished in carved chairs, tables and divans. There were cabinets filled with all sorts of rare vases and there were paintings on the wall, and one queer picture, which, frame and all, was carved from one piece of wood. The lady herself was not a distinguished looking person, nor was she dressed in silks and satins as one would expect a "Tai Tai" to be, but instead she wore the plainest of dark blue cotton clothes. Her nephews, the wives, both young women, on the contrary were dressed elaborately, with faces painted, hair oiled, and teeth blackened. They had tiny, tiny little feet, so small that you wondered how they could support their weight on them. The servants brought in tea for us all and they would have served cakes, etc., but we demurred, and after resting a little we went out to explore. We peeped into some guest rooms which were barren and stiff and not cozy looking in spite of the family's wealth, for Chinese do not seem to get much comfort, as we understand the word, out of their money. They have no stoves, and, except for little charcoal braziers or by fires built in the brick beds or "kangs," no way of getting any warmth. They never have experienced a cheery evening around a firestone on a chill autumn night.

In the center of the yard was a lake with a little bridge leading out to a summer house, and we immediately thought of picnic suppers and teas out in this delightful spot—but no, they never used it for such, nor did they ever sit there except in the sixth month when the lotus was in bloom. On one side of the lake, or pond, was a mass of stones cemented together to form a little hill on the top of which was a little observatory. To get to it we passed through a room which was made of colored glass, all colors. This was a great curiosity to the girls for they had never seen anything like that before. From the top of the hill one could look down on all the establishment and on the neighbors as well, and beyond that to the dull gray city wall rising in the distance.

Finally word came from the men who had been waiting in another court, that it was time to go, and with profound bows and words of thanks we formed our procession and started once more. This time our destination was a theatre building, an immense affair, but rather dilapidated looking, the whole thing being covered with straw mats. Here our audience awaited us, and to our astonishment the building was just packed with women, and carts were coming from all directions bringing other "Tai Tais." The school girls were seated and the student speakers and we foreigners were escorted to the platform. There tea was poured out for us in Chinese cups, but having already drunk our fill, we didn't take any, and in a short time some one came and took them away. Presently he returned, however, bringing a couple of "foreign" tea pots and "foreign" cups and saucers. Of course we had to reward all this trouble by taking a few sips whether we wanted to or not. Then the meeting was called to order and one of our girls spoke on "Women and the New Republic." She was splendid and we foreigners swelled up with pride. In the girls' oratoricals held every Saturday afternoon we have had hard work making the girls speak as if they were interested in what they were saying and to get them to try and interest their audience also. So we were delighted when these girls rose to the occasion splendidly as if they had been accustomed to making public addresses all their lives.

The Tai Tais just hung on every word that was spoken. There was one Tai Tai over eighty years old and another over seventy, yet at that age they came out to hear for themselves what the women of China were to do to help bring about a better condition of affairs.

Lin Yu Mei then spoke on "Foot Binding" and even outdid the other girl in my estimation. She told how they had walked all that distance that day, which they could not have done had their feet been bound like these Tai Tais. The whole school then sang a song about unbinding feet.

I forgot to say that Mr. Djang, who had the meeting in charge, told the audience that when any speaker finished they must clap their hands and he showed them how to do it (for this of course is distinctly a foreign custom). You can imagine how funny it seemed to us. Mr. Wang made a few very fine remarks about the new republic and what the flag stood for, and how they should love their country. Our woman teacher Mrs. Tien, a sister of one of the girls who spoke, then pleaded very eloquently for them to educate their daughters as well as their sons. Next Mrs. Mateer told about our girls' school and its object and what had been accomplished since it had been established. When the meeting was finally over the women wouldn't leave; they wanted to stay and hear more. They came up on the platform and talked with us, and we finally had to slip out at one side in order to get away. They seemed quite interested in affairs out here at the mission compound and many promised to come and see for themselves.

After the meeting we went to the city chapel where we spent several hours resting for we were tired and hungry. We foreigners had taken lunch and we bought food for the girls. The chief of police treated the crowd to cakes so we had a pleasant time all around. The girls looked through the museum where there are many interesting things. Many women followed us there and in talking to them I came across several of the girls who were making good use of the time by telling them of the true God who loved them and who had sent his only Son to die for them. We invited all our visitors to return to the chapel the following day and hear more of this "good news," and I am told that there was quite a crowd in attendance at the service where Mr. Mateer was holding communion. We came home tired and foot-sore from our day's experience but all agreed that it had been well worth while, a red letter day both for our school and for the city women.

The opening wedge has been made and things can never again be as they were in the past. If there was ever an opportunity it is right now, here in Wei Hsien, and we want to do our part toward bettering the conditions and lives of these women, not socially and physically and mentally (this alone is a great work), but primarily our aim is to bring them the gospel in all its strength and sweetness for that and only that can bring them true and eternal happiness.

Yours sincerely,
GRACE M. ROWLEY.

TRIED TO DESTROY NETS WITH AN ACID

Newport News: One of the worst pieces of vandalism ever committed in this city was that of last Saturday night, when some one poured acid over a seine belonging to Anton Suttora, almost ruining it. The seine was rented to some Italian fishermen by Suttora, who claims that an attempt is being made to run the alien fishermen out of the city. Nearly all of the American fishermen on the beach turned in Monday and helped Suttora patch the net up again. Suttora is one of the oldest residents of this city, and there is not a man here who can say that Suttora has ever wronged him. This makes the cowardly trick of burning up his nets all the worse, and it is to be regretted that the person who did it was not caught red handed in the act.

CHURCH FOR GERMANS

The Lutheran Congregation

Votes to Put up $25,000 Structure

Orange News: A new church building to be erected at a cost of $25,000 was authorized yesterday at a meeting of the congregation of St. John's Lutheran Evangelical church. A building committee was appointed with instructions to proceed as soon as $20,000 had been pledged for the work. As $19,000 has already been pledged, and the rest can be raised with little difficulty, it is announced that the project will go forward without delay.

Seven men were selected as a building committee, and they will handle the business connected with building. They are: H. Grote, chairman; A. Dittmer, secretary, and Rev. Kogler, Wm. Battermann, Geo. Dierker, H. Fritschen and L. D. Gunther.

P. W. Ehlen was named as head of the finance committee, charged with soliciting funds for the building. Because of his activities before the meeting, however, there is not a great task before the committee, for Mr. Ehlen had lined up $19,000 while working quietly before the congregational meeting.

The new building will be a notable addition to the public buildings of Orange. The rapid growth of the Lutheran congregation has made a larger church a necessity, and with characteristic enterprise, the congregation has gone about the task.

Strength

The strength of a banking institution consists not alone in its financial resources but also in the character and ability of its officers and directors and in the confidence and loyalty given it by the community of which it is a part. These banks are pre-eminently strong in ALL respects.

Service

The proper conception of a banking institution's duties and privileges includes service to its community. A bank must pay its stockholders a fair rate of interest in order to secure and hold investments in its stock; but its duty does not end here; it must also render REAL SERVICE to its community in the way of public enterprises and private support. These banks point with pride to their records in these respects.

Solvency

A banking institution to be really and truly solvent must have more and other assets than merely money and credits in excess of its money liabilities. It must have a surplus of character, a reserve fund of reputation, a credit balance of experience, large and moral resources. These banks invite examination as to their moral solvency.

FOR SALE

The Tract known as Flower Street Acres.

Fronting on South Flower St. Directly west of the Poly Tec. High School grounds.

I have had this tract Surveyed and Platted several times during the past 2 or 3 years for the purpose of subdivision and under every kind of a pretext, or without pretext, the City Trustees have Turned me down five times.

Now I would not accuse the majority of the City Trustees of "doing politics" or of refusing me a square deal, but when they defer to, and accept the conclusions of a committee consisting of two trustees, reinforced by the City Engineer, and decide against every reasonable proposal I make, I run up against a combination that is too big for me (as I weigh something less than 113 pounds with my boots on).

Therefore, I offer the above named ranch for sale (less one acre already sold) on easy terms.

For any one who has a "pull" with our city government this is the best thing in the city for subdivision.

LOS ANGELES PRODUCE MARKET

There was a general decline of 2 cents in the price of local fresh eggs yesterday. Case count were quoted down to 42 cents, candled to 46, pullets to 29 and seconds to 25. Receipts were larger than usual—133 cases. The heavier receipts and lighter demand because of high prices, taken in conjunction with the falling off in the San Francisco selling rate to 40½ cents a dozen, were the main factors causing the local decline. The easier market in the East has also been an important influence in the lowering of prices during the last few days. While some dealers think that another decline—probably to the extent of 1 cent—may possibly occur tomorrow, there seems to be quite a general feeling that any falling off during the next few weeks will be small. Some are even of the opinion that there will be a reaction. However, it is pretty generally believed that the highest prices of the season have been witnessed on fresh ranch eggs.

The butter market was firm as usual, with receipts rather light—23,822 pounds. Four hundred pounds of cheese were reported in. Some northern fresh in large lots was offered as low as 17½ cents, and eastern horns and dairies as low as 19 and 18½ cents, respectively. Tillamook dairies were also a little easier with some offerings at 18½. Eastern horn cheese sold as low as 19 cents.

The fruit market was rather quiet. Some of the dealers say that the expected advance in banana prices has taken effect, and the lowest rate on the fruit is about 4 cents a pound. A small shipment of raspberries came in. Apple receipts were 7970 boxes. Changes in the vegetable market were of minor importance. No onions came in. The market exhibited little change. Receipts of potatoes were 4590 sacks, and the market was fairly steady. Sweet potato receipts were 290 sacks. The vegetable could be obtained for as low as $1.35 a sack. Dealers are predicting an advance in tomato prices soon. Good stock is selling around 60 to 75 cents a box.

Post Discusses 'Phones And Removal of Office

Orange Post: On information that the directors of the S.A.V.I. Co. had threatened to remove the water office from Orange, unless the Home Telephone Co. were permitted to connect its lines with said office, the Orange Post published an article last week discrediting such information for the two reasons that the directors did not have the power to remove the office, and that we did not believe they had the disposition to force the city trustees to commit a dishonorable act, both of which reasons seem to be justified by later information. There are, however, some proponents of the Home company and certain residents of Santa Ana that are agitating the removal of the office from Orange to Santa Ana. Let us briefly recount the principal events in this struggle between the two telephone companies and see if there is any justification for this agitation for removal of the water office.

The Sunset Telephone Company entered Orange about the year 1884, before the town was incorporated and before franchises were thought of, for public utility corporations in even larger places than Orange. The first regulation imposed on the company by the city was in 1900, when the ordinances required the payment of a license for doing business in the city and forbade the setting of poles in the streets or the stringing of wires without a permit from the board of trustees. These requirements were obeyed by the company until about a year ago, except that the license was dropped several years ago, when the courts ruled that for corporations doing an interstate business licenses were not required.

A number of years ago Pasadena, Pomona and perhaps other cities took the stand that telephone companies must take out a franchise for the privilege of occupying the streets with poles and wires. The Sunset company resisted this contention on the same plea that broke down the payment of licenses, but with a different result. The courts sustained the contention of the cities, holding that the cities could remove the poles and wires from their streets of companies having no franchise.

While this contest was being carried on in the courts by the cities mentioned the Home company asked for a franchise in the city of Orange. The trustees had the city canvassed two or three different times, to find out the wish of the people, with the same result each time, that the great majority of the people did not want two 'phones. When the question was finally settled in the courts, the board of trustees offered a franchise for sale to the highest bidder, as required by law. The Home company bid $100 and the Sunset company bid $1000, the latter company being awarded the franchise.

Shortly after this sale, which was supposed to settle the franchise questry to use the water company as a cat's paw to take the franchise chestnut out of the fire. An attempt was made to connect the telephone wires with the water office by stealth; but the move was detected and the wires were ordered removed. A petition was presented to the trustees signed by 125 stockholders of the water company, asking permission for the Home company "to string wires in your city to the office of the Santa Ana Valley Irrigation Company and the subscribers and users of the Santa Ana Home Telephone and Telegraph Company."

Note the wording of the quoted portion of the petition—"to string wires;" where? "in your city;" to what place? "to the office of the S.A.V.I. Co.;" anywhere else? "and the subscribers and users of the Santa Ana Home Telephone and Telegraph Company;" where will these "subscribers and users" of the Santa Ana company be served? Why, "in your city," where permission is asked "to string wires" to these "subscribers and users!"

Of the 125 signers of the petition, 98 are located in Santa Ana, 26 in Tustin and one in West Orange; 46 have both 'phones; 23 have the Sunset only; 30 have the Home only, of which two reside in Tustin; 26 have no 'phone. This analysis shows that the storm center of the franchise gale is in Santa Ana; also that less than one-quarter of the signers are exclusive users of the Home 'phone. That the Home company deliberately planned to use the water company to force its way into Orange, was made apparent when the attorney, in addressing the trustees, predicted that the city would lose the water office unless it permitted the Home company to come into Orange.

The foregoing hurried sketch of the principal events in the franchise fight shows that the city trustees of Orange took no action, toward letting a second telephone company into the city, in obedience to the wishes of the great majority of the people, so long as the question of the necessity for a franchise was in dispute, and that, when the courts settled the dispute and indicated the course to be pursued by the cities, said trustees faithfully followed such course as in duty bound. It may be added that the trustees are willing to grant the water company permission to connect with the Home company, provided that an agreement can be made that will bar such connection from becoming a precedent for further connections in the city without a franchise. They wish to give the water company every facility possible consistent with conserving the rights of the city; but they do not intend to dishonor themselves and the city by selling a franchise to the highest bidder and then allow the unsuccessful bidder to sneak in for nothing under false pretenses, and every true man or woman in Orange will uphold

So far, then, as the threat to move the office was a bluff, it has failed; and we cannot believe that a very large proportion of the stockholders would knowingly assist the Home company in trying to injure Orange, out of spite over its own failure. It will take the written consent of the holders of two-thirds of the capital stock to authorize the change of the location of the principal place of business of the company, and it has always been a laborious and expensive task to secure the signatures for two-thirds of the stock, in amending the by-laws where all were agreed; so we haven't much fear of the removal of the office. However, we would like to see a general failure to secure signatures as an indication of the disapproval of the stockholders of the attempt to inject spite into the business management of the water company.

Even if the city trustees of Orange had been hostile and unfair to the Home company (which they have not), what gain would there be to the telephone company or the water company in removing the office? The Home company could not get into Orange thereby, and the S.A.V.I. Co. would be jumping out of the frying pan into the fire by moving to Santa Ana, to say nothing about inconveniencing the employees and taking the headquarters of the company to the lower end of the district. We deprecate raking up old controversies and don't do it except in self-defense; but we also object to being pulled down for the sake of building up our neighbors. It is wrong to stir up local jealousies and engender bitterness in a mutual company, where all should be, not only just, but kind and helpful to one another; and we hope the stockholders will express their disapproval of such antagonisms in no uncertain manner, by refusing to sign for the removal of the water office from Orange.

AMUSEMENTS

"Butterfly on the Wheel"
"It was in the Duke of York's Theater in London," says Mr. J. Malcolm Dunn, the youthful English romantic actor; "the scene was a powerful one in which I had been banished for life to a small island off the Isle of Man, and was driven almost mad by the solitude."

"The audience was sitting in tense silence, and, coming to the climax of a long speech, I cried with all the agony and pathos I could summon: 'Oh, this awful silence will drive me mad! Will no one speak to me; in Heaven's name let some one speak to me!'"

"To my horror a ragged voice replied from the gallery: 'Well, old man, how are ye—all right, eh?'"

"That finished the scene. The house rocked with laughter, and it was several minutes before the play

Mr. Charles Purcell, as Lieut. Rumeili; Mr. J. F. McDonough, as Alexius; Mr. Sylvan Langlois, as Pupo II, in "The Chocolate Soldier."

could proceed. No doubt the bibulous lobster meant his remark kindly, but I'm afraid if I could have gotten at him I would have sobered him at least."

Mr. Dunn comes to the Grand Opera House Saturday, Dec. 7, in the of a number of the most successful London productions with Marie Tempest, Annie Hughes, and Miss Lena Ashwell, and has toured South Africa, Australia, New Zealand and Tasmania, much of his stage career has been spent in America.

"The Chocolate Soldier"

It is said that "The Chocolate Soldier," which will come to the Grand Opera House Monday, Dec. 9, is richer in melody for all possible varieties of the theatergoers than any light opera of this decade. In addition to the melodious "My Hero" waltz, of which the strains are now heard over half the world, there are a dozen other numbers which make instant appeal. The sprightly "Letter" song with its very modern humor offers a strong contrast to the sweet love strains of the "Falling in Love" duet which is quite as striking as the march of the Bulgarians and the melodic beauty of the wedding march near the finale of the second act.

WILD ANIMALS TO DO GREAT TRICKS

The first principle that is taught a wild animal trainer is: "Never let an animal know his power." The moment he realizes that, he is likely to use his terrible teeth, or still more terrible claws. It is a delusion to think that a wild animal is ever really "tamed." He acquires, through passiveness and receptivity, an amenity to man's control, and for the time being drops his ferocity.

The very moment an animal realizes his power, his training is at an end. He grows insolent and in many instances seeks to wreak vengeance on the trainer for what he concludes are past outrages. This fear has gone and with the wild animal's knowledge comes power and his ferocity, long dormant, breaks out with double vigor.

Many animals do, of course, inflict injuries upon the trainers fairly often, but it is an unwise trainer who ever makes the slightest sign of pain or annoyance. Trainers have been known to give a flick of the whip, the result is always the same. The animal either promptly retorts or indulges in a fit of sulks which he never forgets.

Whenever a trainer gets fairly cornered, the best defense against a charging lion or tiger is to strike the animal on the nose, hitting up from under; but this is by no means an easy thing to do, as the animal will spring and dodge with a degree of skill that would do credit to a clever prize fighter. Meantime, however, the trainer can be edging into a position that will give him an opportunity to escape.

The Al G. Barnes Big Three Ring Wild Animal Circus will exhibit in Santa Ana on Friday, December 6. This is by far the largest and most pretentious animal exhibition in the world. With the show is carried 350 educated animals which number in cludes a score of African bred lions.
